invite you to take part in the international conference “Demographic changes in the time of Industrialisation (1750-1918). The example of the Habsburg Monarchy” scheduled to take place in Cluj-Napoca between the 16th and the 20th of October 2008.

The organizers would like to encourage participants (historians, demographers, sociologists, political scientists, etc.) to approach in their papers not only the phenomena and the changes affecting the demographic structure of the province during the time of Industrialisation (matters pertaining to the ethno-confessional and socio-professional structure of the population, migration, urban/rural aspects, population policies, birth and death rates, the number of marriages, etc.), but also the impact of the industrialisation upon the later structure and evolution of the population.

The official languages of the conference will be Romanian, German and English.

Full accommodation will be provided by the organizers, but participants will have to cover their own travel expenses.

Please confirm your participation by 01.03.2008 at the latest and send us the title and a summary of roughly one page written in one of the languages of the conference.
